AN ERRONEOUS BELIEF. a Mistaken Theory Nearly Cost

Well-Known Minister His Life. [Chicago Standard,] The following remarkable statement, made by a well-known liaptist elergyman, besides the un-usual matter of value It contains, will be found most readable and interesting:

Messus, Entrons: I have always believed most firmly in the brotherhood of mess, and that every numan being is in duty bound to assist his fellow man to the fullest extent of his power. The re-ation, therefore, of my personal experience will, I trust, prove of benefit to many thousands in this and.

artich, therefore of my personal experience will, I trust, prove of benefit to many thousands in this land.

My earlier years were full of health and pleasure. After the completion of my educational studies I undertook the profession of tesching, and under the severe strain to which I was subjected I gradually became reduced so that the least exposure or excitement would bring on sick headache, biliousness and general prostration. If give up teaching and began to prepare for the ministry, and although I studied hard my health seemed to grow no worse. Finally I commoned preaching, and then my old physical troubles returned. The slightest smouth of certain kinds of food distressed me and brought on heavy duliness, distalness and often great depression or mind. A change of room, atmosphere or clothing was almost certain to cause a cold, accompanied by most pasuful suffering. I attributed all this to the severe work I was obliged to do in the ministry, and so did not attempt to remove it. I next began to grow nervous and noticed that my feet were cold, while my left side and back frequently pained me. I felt a drowsy or sleepy sunsation after eating, while a little excitement caused me to lose my specific entirely. At times my spirits would be light and I would feel as if I might live to a good old age, when possibly in less than an hour my head would reel, my bedy ache, and I would be overcome with a deathly sickness. After such an attack a cold sweat would break out upon me and this would be impossible to describe the suffering I endured at these times, and yet lattributed it all to overwork and not to any specific tramble or disease.

prestration. It would be impossible to describe the suffering I endured at these times, and yet I attributed it all to overwork and not to any special tramble or disease.

It was more than a year from the time the attacks first began that I consulted a physician. He examined me and declared that my lungs were affected and that I was on the road to consumption. I derided this idea and so called upon another doctor. But he told me the same thing, as did also the other medical men whom I consulted, indeed they all informed me that unless I went to Colorado, Dakota, or the sea coast there was little hope. However, I did not change climate, buttried to continue my work as best I could. A year ago last May and in the November and December following I had three severe attacks of what the doctors said was long fever or pneumonia. I recovered from these by the most faithful nursing, but I falt all the time, as I know now, that my troubles did not originate in my lungs, but in some other organs of the body. It is true, I felt severe pains in my lungs and I expectorated a great deal. I was extremely sensitive to coid, and the least draft or change of apparel tended to bring on a cold. My breathing was often most inflicuit, and it frequently seemed that with all my exertions I could not get enough air into my lungs to satisfy them or keep my blood pure. As I am large in stature, we shing over 200 pounds, and being in the prime of my usefulness, you can imagine how I shrunk from the inevitable fate which seemed to stare me in the face.

One Stunday evening last February, upon coming down from my pulpit, almost prostrated, and feeling that possibly it would be the last time I should ever enter it again, a member of my church approached me and said. "Brother Humphroy, I know just what you need to restore you to health. I have been troubled just as you are and I am perfectly well in owe." Thanked him for his suggestions, but shook my head sadly, for I felt that there was little hope for me. However, after I returned home I beg which I consider a benefaction to suffering humanity.

It is only natural that since my recovery I should feel onthusiastic over the remedy which had restored me, and also observe its effects upon others. As a result, I am forced to the conclusion that very much sickness which is supposed to originate in the lungs arises wholly from disordered kidneys and liver. I believe thousands of people are suffering to-day and looking forward, as I was, to a consumptive's grave, when their lungs are wholly sound and they night be restored to perfect health by the same means that I employed helieving these truths and realizing their importance to the world, I come out thus openly and say that I believe, under God, this remedy is a public benefaction, and I would most cordulity and earnessity commend it to the world as a blessing to bumanity.
